Feast of

Corpus Christi

The Body & Blood of Christ

The Solemnity of Corpus Christi (Body of Christ), now celebrated on the Sunday following Trinity Sunday, commemorates the institution of the Holy Eucharist. Formerly celebrated on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday, it parallels Maundy Thursday (Holy Thursday), which also commemorates Our Lord's institution of the Eucharist. Because Holy Thursday is in Holy Week, a season of sadness, the Church introduces the celebration of Corpus Christi so that the faithful will not lose sight of the institution of the Holy Eucharist.

In 1206, Saint Juliana of Mont Cornillon, who became an Augustinian nun in Liège, France, had a great veneration for the Blessed Sacrament and longed for a special feast in its honor. She had a vision of the Church under the appearance of the full moon having one dark spot, which signified the absence of such a solemnity. She made known her ideas to the Bishop of Liège, Robert de Thorete and to Jacques Panaléon, at the time Archdeacon of Liège and who later became Pope Urban IV. Bishop Robert de Thorete ordered that his diocese celebrate Corpus Christi.

Pope Urban IV later published the Bull Transiturus (September 8, 1264.) After having extolled the love of Our Savior as expressed in the Holy Eucharist, he ordered the annual celebration of Corpus Christi on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday. More than four decades later, Pope Clement V published a new decree which embodied Urban IV's decree and ordered the adoption of the feast at the General Council of Vienna (1311.)

In our 21st century the celebration of this feast not only expresses our belief in the real presence of Christ but also calls us to be witnesses of Christ who gave us his Body and Blood for nourishment in order to be strengthened in service for others.

On Sunday, June 14, 2009, after the 10:30A Mass at St. Theresa's, a procession will proceed on School Street, go down Nuuanu Street and arrive at the Cathedral of our Lady of Peace, where there will be Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament and Benediction.

The Most Holy Body & Blood of Christ

Today's Reflection: Today, we focus our attention on the reason we come together each week. Jesus has given himself up for all of us. "Take it; this is my body....This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many." With his own body and blood he gives each of us the greatest gift we can ever receive—himself.

How does Jesus' gift of his own self play an active part in your life?

Next Sunday's Reading – June 21, 2009

Job 38:1, 8-11

2 Corinthians 5:14-17

Mark 4:35-41

Job 38:1, 8-11

This book in the Old Testament discusses suffering. How do we deal with suffering, especially when the sufferer is innocent? Job's circumstances test his faith. The answer God finally gives Job does not completely satisfy, but it is realistic. Suffering, by its nature, robs us of the ability to "see the big picture." Ultimately, we must accept God on his terms. God is in charge. Despite our pain, our only acceptable response is trust. Implicitly, if we cannot manage our own personal suffering, how can we dare to question the Lord who brings water for the life of all things? This harsh but necessary outlook puts suffering in context. Like Job, we will all suffer despite our innocence or guilt. We cannot escape some tragedy in life. We need to see suffering as a test of faith, not as divine retribution. We can endure and become stronger in character. We can grow closer to the Lord.

How has God made you stronger through a tragedy in your life?

2 Corinthians 5:14-17

Some Christian groups have different spiritualities, depending upon their focus. Some concentrate on "Incarnation theology" (the birth of Christ). Others focus on "expiation theology" (the death of the Lord). A third group sees salvation in terms of the Resurrection. However, faith has a retrospective nature; we tend to see the important events in the life of Christ from the nearest (Resurrection) to the farthest (Incarnation).

In today's reading, Paul assumes both outlooks. He considers the purpose of life for the Christian is to live for the One who has died for all. The Christian who has "died in Christ," is baptized, whether physically alive or dead, awaits the Second Coming. To know the self-giving nature of Christ's death is to know the Risen Christ. That knowledge and the action of the Holy Spirit change the relationship. The baptized has already received the benefits of the resurrection in the gift of eternal life and is a "new creation." Our life in Christ gives us hope. Faith allows us to see the world through the loving eyes of God.

How does your faith help you remain hopeful in this world?

Mark 4:35-41

When we lose control, we can react in different ways. If honest with ourselves, we can give up the illusion of control and admit a greater power is in charge. We need God.

Jesus' followers learn this fact in the narrative of the wind storm. After a day of preaching about God's kingdom, Jesus tells his disciples to travel to the other side of the Sea of Galilee by boat. When they wake Jesus for his help during the storm, he acts but rebukes them, "Don't you have faith yet?"

The story reveals the divine power of Christ. In the person of Jesus, the apostles see the power and presence of God who has control over nature itself.

Are you willing to trust God to be in control of your life?

Stewardship

How Much Time Does God Get?

God has blessed each of us with 1,440 minutes in every day and 10,080 minutes in every week. How many of those minutes do we give back to God each week?

Studies show that the majority of our time goes to sleeping, working and watching TV. In fact, typically over 1,000 minutes a week or about 10% of our time goes to watching TV. In contrast, God gets less than 100 minutes. Less than 1% of our time is devoted to spiritual activities like prayer and worship.

How can you give God a little more of your time? Consider Mass attendance, prayer, spiritual reading, Eucharistic Adoration or volunteering.

Updates for Fr. Damien's Canonization:

A Special Message From Bishop Larry Silva

I am grateful to all the members of the Father Damien/Mother Marianne Commission of the Diocese and many others who have worked so hard to prepare for the celebration of Father Damien's canonization on October 11, 2009. I am particularly grateful to Deacon Wally Mitsui for becoming the coordinator of the events.

I want to call several items to your attention:

- www.fatherdamien.com is a new website with a wealth of information you can use for catechesis on Father Damien; for a list of celebrations, both in Belgium and Rome, and here in Hawaii; for Father Damien books and memorabilia; and for links to other sites pertinent to the life of Father Damien and his legacy.
- I ask all the parishes, missions, and oratories in the Diocese of Honolulu to celebrate the Mass in honor of Father Damien on the day of his canonization, October 11, and even at the Saturday Vigil Masses on October 10. The readings will be those of the 28th Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B. The gospel of the Rich Young Man is quite appropriate. The Mass prayers are on the website.
- The canonization will take place on Sunday, October 11, at 10:00 a.m. in Rome, which will be Saturday, October 10, at 10:00 p.m. in Hawaii. Oceanic Cable Channel 16 will broadcast a one-hour documentary on Damien at 9:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 10, 2009. Here in Hawaii, we can view the EWTN live feed of the canonization on Saturday, October 10, 2009 at 10:00P. Re-broadcasts will be on Sunday, October 11, at 1:00 p.m. (documentary) and 2:00 p.m. (canonization).

Damien Print for Sale

Celebrated Big Island artist Dietrich Varez has created a new block print of Father Damien celebrating his canonization on October 11, 2009 in Rome. The artwork, rich in detail and symbolism in typical Varez fashion, shows angel presenting the missionary to Molokai with a halo made of maile. The reproductions are 11" X 14", dark brown ink printed on light tan paper. Varez has given Bishop Larry Silva permission to produce the image and offer reproductions for sale. Proceeds will go towards helping with Damien canonization-related expenses in Hawaii and include travel costs for Kalaupapa patients who wish to attend the ceremonies in Belgium and Rome.

Prints are available through the Hawaii Catholic Herald. Cost: $10 each (includes shipping/handling) Make check payable to: Roman Catholic Church in the State of Hawaii. Write "Damien print" on the memo line. Mail check to Hawaii Catholic Herald, 1184 Bishop Street, Honolulu, HI 96813. For more information call 585-3300.
